Have you ever had a manager or maybe a boss that you hated
Someone who no matter how hard you try you can't get past their style of management
My name is Evan Bettac and I'm from Columbus Oh
My major is business analytics and no matter where I go in the workforce I promise to bring accountability, perseverance, and conflict resolution into my field.

It's important to obtain these skills as they are vital to fostering a healthy work environment.

As a regular opening manager and lifeguard at my pool I was tired of how messy and incomplete the previous nights closes were. Rather than harping with frustration and complaining to my boss over and over and over again about the issue, I persevered.

Using my conflict resolution skills, I created detailed check lists for not just the lifeguards, but the managers as well. I required each individual to take accountability for their closing tasks by initialing what they completed. My boss loved the idea and instantly, the closes improved exponentially. The openings went much smoother.

In this class, I'm here to be a good team worker that searches for results and will always try go above and beyond

I thank you all for your listening and for your time.
